

PROTECTING 'EXPORT CONTROL INFORMATION' (ECI)

KEY TAKEAWAY

Disclosure of controlled unclassified information identified as Export Control Information (ECI) to a non-U.S. person without appropriate authorization is reportable to SIMP and may result in an incident of security concern (IOSC).

GET TO KNOW

INTERNATIONAL EXPORT & TRADE COMPLIANCE

Although it may not be obvious, technical discussions with foreign nationals can be an export control concern. Sharing technical information with non-U.S. persons by any means—including conversation, virtual meeting (Teams), presentation, training, email, or system access—may require an export license.

International Export & Trade Compliance (IETC) is here to help!

IETC is your guide to understanding and complying with export control laws, rules and regulations.

When working with technical information:

- Know your topic—work closely with your Derivative Classifier and the IETC team to identify ECI.
- Know your audience—review metagroups, recipients and participants before scheduling a meeting or sharing information.

RESOURCES

International Export and Trade Compliance \(IETC\)

505-845-7000 | eico@sandia.gov

IT022, Export Controlled Information \(ECI\) Policy

SS009, Foreign Interactions Policy

CUI Export Control Category

Who and What can Go Where?

Security Connection

321 from Sandia phone
505-845-1321 from any phone
security@sandia.gov